

Thought I would share some of my 11 years past personal experiences with you...

Just remember this... their only & biggest fear is being exposed/found out about...this is our only defense against them at this point... if the Archons start messing with you just send this message out to as many people as possible until they stop messing with you...

Yes, it true, I am schizophrenic... however, as many a delusion that I have had, and there have been many over the years... this talk of Archons is not one of them... as a matter of fact the one and only thing that has been consistent while in & out of psychosis has been these Archon Entities...

I'm not really sure what these Archons are... I call them entities but who know for sure... Gnostic talk about Reptilians and the Grey aliens... I personally believe Archons are the Reptilians... when I've been in psychosis I tend to see a lot of Orbs and what are called shadow people... I really do not think Archons are Orbs... I truly feel orbs are a good thing... the shadows on the other hand very well might just be these Archons... one does not need to be in psychosis to see either of these entities... you just have to pay very close attention to what is around you... both Orbs & Archons are everywhere all around us at all times... they share the same space with us only with a higher vibrational rate on a different dimension (5th dimension I assume?)... Orbs can often times be captured on film... I've taken and have seen many photos of these guys... the Archons on the other hand... good luck getting these shadows in a photo for they are very fast and blend in with the walls... though I have seen others that have video taped them...

Below is a video that explains about them somewhat, however, I do not agree with everything they talk about... and nowhere on the net have I found that shows the true extent over which they control us... mentally & psychically.... you control the mind you control the body... and they do just that...

It's been about six months ago now that they had actually taken me over... that had taken me over early the night before then I went to sleep... upon awakening, I found myself being only the observer in my body with absolutely no control of my own... the entity named Bill preceded to yell at the top of my lungs help, help, help, conspiracy, conspiracy, he repeated this type stuff for probably what seemed like an hour but was probably only 1/2 hour... at which point he finally got up with me and found my cell phone and proceeded to phone the police... he told them who he was and that he was calling for me to tell them that folks were being held against the will and that a major conspiracy involving the whole apartment complex including manager was underway... he also told 911 operator that they needed to send a spirit cop to take me over once he left my body... once done with that call he then called my brother and told him to come over and deal with his brother and the police... the police did in fact showed up where bill have been at the door awaiting there arrival... he quickly ushered them in and explained that he was bill and that I would be pretty freaked out once he left my body... then he just sat down behind my desk while the police searched the place... the cops seem very claim and seem to just wait for bill to leave my body... because one he did leave it was like they instantly new somehow that it was me.... well they just asked a few question at that point and left me alone and went on there way...

But now just a few short nights ago a similar incident occurred... they once again call the police and told them I had major amounts of meth in my apartment.... which of course was not true... anyhow, the police did show up at my door about 1 am in the morning... I was in bed trying to sleep (sleep deprived from the Archons have been keeping me awake for 3 maybe 4 days at that point) I was pretty spent and refused to answer the door... the interesting thing was two of them talking to the cop from the inside of my apartment telling them that I was busy sleeping off a meth high... not sure how I would have explain those two voices had I actually opened the door... they did come back the next morning but once again I would not answer the door... haven't heard back from them since and probably won't know because they kept calling the police tell them I had something illegal in my apartment....

They now have total control over all of my computers... they have literally taken all my files away and then put the back... not so sure why they put them back but they did...

For years now I have been setting up web servers... I have done so multiple times, over & over... now, on two known good working web servers neither will work no matter how many times I try or reinstall... The Archons tell me it won't work and then it doesn't... They make very weird things happen that even other IT professionals can't figure out... They do derive much pleasure in others misery...

They are game players always... it's like this is there whole existence is to play games with people... they really like keeping one awake for days on end... this forces a temporary form of psychosis...

For the Schizophrenics... They claim they do not kill people but instead the goal is to cause enough havoc in ones life for them to want to commit suicide... They in fact cannot kill you in anyway... so have no fear of death from these entities... In the beginning you feel like your being watched... and ever so slowly the voice start to emerge... the voices of the Archons... it isn't for years that they become real to you and start to have a repore... you see, in the begging they are only after one thing and that would be for you to take your own life... then after that has failed they start in with the voices... still with the same death goal in mind... Moral of the story... Never, Ever take your own life no matter what... it is only the Archons giving you these thoughts and feelings...

When you do go into psychosis your delusion will be different but the voices will remain the same... too much dopamine does cause psychosis but its the

Archons that cause the delusions... They work as one unit always working together towards there same goal/agenda... They do like to role play Good Cop, Bad Cop... but in the end there is only Evil Cop working as one...

the past few paragraph with that sort of activity is restricted to only those with schizophrenia I do believe...

But they are in all of our minds... and they do control all of humanity... they know each and every thought you have before you even acknowledge you've had it... so say for example you were a ghost hunter and think you can talk with spirits... you would only be speaking with an Archon who perceives all your thoughts before you do... therefore knowing exactly what to say to convince you of your loved one or others presence...

a great example of this sort of thing would be John Dee... I'm sure you must have heard and know who john Dee is...

"John Dee (13 July 1527 – 1608 or 1609) was a mathematician, astronomer, astrologer, occult philosopher, imperialist and adviser to Queen Elizabeth I. He devoted much of his life to the study of alchemy, divination and Hermetic philosophy."

John Dee: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/John\_De

Dee thought he was speaking with angles for many years before he finally figure out they were no angels... they were in fact, evil... they would have him scribe/see in an amethyst ball and then give him code backwards in Latin <-- I do believe) and Mr. Dee would write it all down as received then would have to rewrite it all forwards to get the message... this went on for 7 years...

Spirituality:

They have spoon feed us our religions... all of them... control out of chaos is what they are about... when you meditate you get connected using the third eye/pineal gland which has rods and cones just like you normal 2 eyes... this again is just the Archons... yes all the vivid colors, people, places that you see is all Archons in our minds... remote viewing, telekinesis, telepathy, out of body experiences, the whole nine yards is nothing more than there manipulation of our minds... hard to believe but I'm telling this is how it is...

This leads me to believe they are in cahoots with the alien abduction activity at least the mental part... I have no idea if these entities fly around in ships but I do believe that they can... I also believe they are responsible for all the very many bizarre, unexplained disappearances from our national wilderness areas... they also have the ability to make your eyes see things... anything! they can even focus them in and out, not sure if this part is restricted to psychosis or not but they can even make you see the same image with you eyes opened or closed... you can see right though you eyelids whatever image they wish you to see... and believe me it's normally not a good image... I haven't yet seen them solid in form but know that they can touch us physically... they are the ones responsible to turning light switches on and off... or opening your refrigerator door, cupboards, ect...

Missing 411: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=251rNGbKS6w>

They are so very quick and smart... Archons can make you say thoughts to yourself and you think you just said it inside your mind... when it wasn't you at all... this is a very common practice on all us humans... if you have to second guess your thoughts you can bet they were not really your thoughts... you are a good person and as such you do not ever have bad thoughts that make you uncomfortable in anyway... these thoughts are always give to us by the Archons... say you had a bad thought about a loved one that might have even been in context but certainly not who you are or would ever wish to think this sort of thought towards this loved one...

One must always pay very, very close attention to each and every thought you have... I myself police each & every single thought that goes through my mind... by doing so you will start to see the differences between what you truly think and what is actually being given to you... remember, it's not just thoughts & imagery but your feelings & emotions are also under attack... pay close attention to these as well... if you are open and honest with yourself you will see not all that you feel is truly you... erratic emotions or ones with no reason behind them are Archons feeding you these feelings & emotions...

A bi-polar person with there extreme highs and lows is a prime example of the kind of havoc Archons cause amongst us...

They don't control all of our thoughts/feeling/emotion all the time but they do to a great extent and very often... believe me they are making emotional/logical decision for all of us everyday on this planet...

I think Castaneda had it most right.... he suggest that these aliens having given us there mind... we do not have our own mind, we instead use there's.... we are only that of consciousness and as such don't require a mind to think with... consciousness automatically knows what to do... when you mediate you can watch your thoughts go by with you or without you.... you are using only consciousness and not the mind...

If you watch your thoughts sometime, just pay close attention... example: if you have your eyes closed and are thinking of something and all of a sudden you get imagery that doesn't line up with your thinking... that would be Archons inserting an image... or you might be thinking along and next thing you know you are thinking about something totally different and can't or almost can't remember what you were just thinking about.... this would be the Archons changing your thoughts...

They know all your thoughts before you think them... and they are very good at inserting there own thoughts within us... sometimes you have thoughts that are just not at all who you are as a person... you can bet that was not your own thought...

They are always controlling our thoughts/feeling/emotions... ever feel like you want to cry for no reason at all... yep, Archons... or how about some overwhelming anxiety for no reason... that too would be the Archons... they are also very good at emphasizing your emotions... like maybe your watching a movie and want to cry but then no decided not to... and you find it almost impossible not too even though you no longer wish too... that would be them... or how about just laying there and all of a sudden your heart starts racing for no reason... you know that infatuation love you get... they can even make this happen out of the blue... not that they normally do so... but they have... they can even go as far as controlling your horniness & orgasms... they are very good at making one addicted to porn... they can and do give us such a strong, very strong false desires that it becomes almost impossible to fight such urges even when you know deep down this is not what you really want or desire for yourself... addictions maybe very real but it's the Archons that drive these addictions to the niff degree making us want such addictions...

these are just a few examples of how these entities mess with us and just how much control they truly do have...

From birth you are assigned a controller... this is the entity that ultimately decide who and what you are to become in life... so in a way they are like a guardian angel only an evil one... There appear to be a few good ones... but this would be far and few in between... it's the evil ones who are afraid of being found out about/exposed... the good ones don't seem to care...

I'm not saying you don't have thoughts or feelings of your own... it's just they are influenced/manipulated every step of the way... you still have your own free will... though they do violate this often... taking control of who you are... you must just pay close attention to what is yours and what is not...

Science Fact:

It takes 6 to 7 seconds from the time you form a thought before your brain acknowledges you had that thought.... say you were asked to choose between two items... your brain would have already made this decision for you a whole 7 seconds before you actually acknowledge and chose the item yourself... I believe this delay was put in place by the Archons so they have total control over what we think without us knowing it... this does bring into question as to whether we actually have any Free Will at all...

Link: <https://vimeo.com/106089707>

When I finally discovered this science fact it all made perfect sense to me why early on when I was in psychosis, the longest time... for months, I would hear my thoughts before I would think them... this was the Archons telling me my thoughts before I thought them or received them... this no longer happens anymore... but wow, how strange it was when I did...

Dreams:

When we dream we are not actually doing the dreaming ourselves... the Archons give us the illusion of us dreaming... they in fact give us the thoughts/feelings and emotions we experience during a dream... it's like they prerecord them and when we fall asleep they just insert the dream giving the full experience with all our prepackage thoughts/feelings/emotions in one prerecord bundle... you can actually watch this happen if you are in between awake and asleep... that fine line we cross every night... but only during this brief time period can you actually acknowledge what they are doing... they work very diligently on what to allow you to remember and what to make you forget from your dreams... this is why so many of our dreams seem to very strange and fragmented to us... they have been meticulously weeded out... I believe they use the dreams as a programming mechanisms... even though they remove stuff from our memories about the dream we have in fact seen the whole dream and that experience remains with us and in fact programs us...

...and you know, that little mini seizure you experience once in a great while when just dosing off to sleep... you know, that knee jerk reaction you get that makes you jump/jerk for no apparent reason... that's actually the Archons shocking your energy body...

Ever wonder where that music comes from that out of the blue just starts playing inside your head... yep, that too is Archons...

They have the ability to interfere with our meditation... as a matter fact they actually control the whole meditation experience... this also hold true with remote viewing... this experience is one that cannot be had but is given to us... the very same goes for astral projections/obes... although these experiences are always given and never had... Your thoughts/feelings/emotions all sensations are all prerecorded just like a dream and then given to you...

Ever Taken a vacation before and remember back to it years later only to realize you did not sleep one time the whole time you took that trip? That brings me to reality itself... This reality is to only given to us and not had... all our waking moments are really prerecorded and then given to us... our thoughts, our feelings, and our emotions including even our psychical bodies... it's just like a dream, within a dream, within a dream...

Confused about this part but it appear that the more you do right the less problematic these Archons are for you... temping us to do the wrong thing but then punishing us when we do... just remember how much control they actually exert over us... they can and do plant thoughts/ideas in our heads as part of there temping us... also remember they even give us desires as well... so you see it not all that hard for you to find yourself doing something less than scrupulous and in turn being punished for these activities... Archons are like a real time karma... when you mess up they are right there to punish you... what does this punishment entail... well, most of the time you would not even realize you were being punished... they are very methodical and subtle about what they do... remember, they do not wish to be discovered... so a punishment could be as simple pain in the leg or maybe a head ache... or if they decided you really need punished it could be a combination of both with a few extras thrown in... so given the real time karma effects... it's enough to maybe make one think these tempting, nasty little mean Archons could actually be a construct of God almighty?

Moral of the story... Think with you Heart and make Kindness your philosophy...

I can go on and on about little subtleties that show the Archons are in fact actually there... but think about all the people who are not schizophrenic and what they are hearing... spirit guides, ascended masters.... angels/demons, and even some with aliens speaking to them as voices in there minds... I say none of these exist, they are all Archons pretending to be one of these others...

The Porn industry and Archons... They do like us to watch porn... a lot of it... and when we do they take our essence away when we masturbate to it... and to all those who think Tantra as a way around... you'd be wrong...for the get your essence when you manifest using Tantra Magick, then on top of that they punish you for do so in the first place... rest assure these Archons will punish you no matter what type of porn you watch... if you must masturbate do so to yourself or nothing at all... if you must watch porn be sure and look away from the porn being sure not to watch it when ejaculating... I think this keeps them from your essence but does nothing to stop them from punishing you...

The supernatural world starts to become much clearer when you realize it is just and only the Archons behind it all...

A Magicians Magick is very real... They do there rituals and then the Archons make it happen... they do this at a cost... I do not know at what cost but it cannot be good... but rest assure this cost is realized in a karmic real time.. meaning right away... if you put negative out into the universe you will get negative right back... and 10 fold... the same holds true for positive... to the degree you put out positive you in turn receive it back...

Just like the Tarot cards... ever wonder how they can be so spot on... yep it's the Archons making the proper cards appear.. they know your past, present and future... I am not condoning Tarot cards in anyway... if this is you thing then fine... but I personally find the Tarot to be a bad thing and only under Archon control...

Our current controlling elite, the ones in power over the planet are not all themselves... once one reaches a certain level of knowledge then they become taken over completely by an Archon... This Archon remains in control of this individual for the remainder of there life... and this individual becomes only an observer from his body & mind...

Here's the elites plan for humanity... it's all about Transhumanism... the elite wish to drop our population down by as little as five hundred million... once this goal has been achieved they will begin a body replacement of the remaining humans... your conciseness will be transferred to a computer chip and your new robot body... this new body being now immortal will be under the direct control of the elite... This elite are under direct control of the Archons... Thus giving Archons total direct control over what is left of humanity... remember you will now be immortal and unable to die and yet you are under someone elses direct control...

“The doorway to real change and the doorway to your own inner Gnosis is by perfecting your own Presence, being present, being in your body where you are, every moment of every day. Someone who is perfected that ability does not dream. Can you imagine that? They never dream, they are continually awake and everything they perceive is real no longer a projection of the mind. “

<http://gnosticteachings.org/courses/gnostic-meditation/75-vigilance.html>”

These Archons are not limited to the Schizophrenic... anyone hearing voices, angels, demons, spirits, aliens, channeling, higher self, ascended masters, etc... are all only hearing Archons... Archons are very, very smart and can be quite cruel and relentless at times... these entities intelligent is beyond believe... they reside where time does not exist... they see all of everything... past, present and future all at once... they truly know all... the whole bible was written this way... they were just portraying to be God... though I do think the bible holds much truths I am still suspect of much of what it states... Archons are in fact very malevolent by nature... and should never be believed nor trusted.. at the very least be suspect and taken with a grain of salt...

They can affect any aspect of ones body... sure they can cause aches and pains... but also have control over just how fast your nails or hair grows out... if you control the mind then you control the body and Archons in fact do just that...

If your having unexplained pain in an area you can bet it the Archons causing you that pain... one way to get rid of this pain is to imagine breathing in a color... say blue... into the area that is experiencing the pain... do this for a few minutes and the pain will go away...

These Archons are very real individuals, each with there own unique personalities... they do have individualism but work together as a collective or hive mind... always working toward the same agendas/goals...

The Archon through our subconscious decide who and what we are to become... they are with us from the time we are born... Gays are not born this way... however, from birth they are under Archon control and influence making them become gay/bisexual/trans... they essentially are our subconscious...

Reincarnation:

Just say no to Reincarnation...

Reincarnation is nothing more than a scam propagated by the Archons...

The Afterlife "Life Review" Is A Trap:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AqEPKbvDvNc>

When we die they put on a show for us... we meet old friends and family and even get to speak with God... the deal is; nothing could be further from the truth... those old friends and loved one are not real at all... if it were gonna be you old friends and loved ones... what would they be doing there in the first place... they would have long since reincarnated themselves after having been duped... they are only Archons pretending to be them... and the same goes for God... Yes, God is real, but that is not who you will be talking to when you die here on planet earth... it will only ever be an Archon pretending to be God...

Once dead an Archon or the pretender God will put you through a life review... pointing out all the places where you need spiritual enhancements... they will tell you with warm heart felt love just how shitty you did this last time around and need to do another incarnation... with promises of magical wonders once you reach certain levels of spirituality...

This is the biggest lie of all... you don't need spiritual enhancements... you were already a fully enhanced spiritual being before you ever incarnated here on planet earth in the first place...

Archon Traps:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NHDMmNzoiKE>

Contracts:

Once the review is done they'll want you to form and sign a new contract with them... you'll get to pick who your parents will be, what kind of life you'll have... and even what happens to you every step of the way... but they'll also want to include... "Just for you" all kinds of little nasties that you'll have to over come in this next incarnation... they'll have it all set up so you will want to suffer these hardships as a way of spiritual growth....

Spiritual Growth my Ass... Tell them to go to Hell!!!

Once you have signed said contract... they will have you taken off to some very relaxing setting/situation where you will remain until your time is ready for reincarnation and memory wipe...

Hopefully you have not made it that far with them... that you have stood your ground and told them all to piss off... however, if by chance you haven't told them that and have made it to the waiting area... you should reflect back on all that I have written here and start spreading the word to all others about it... the very important fact that they do not need to reincarnate for any reason... that there is so very much more out there than this trivial place called earth... and they should all band together and tear up all those newly made contracts right then and there...

They might even say you've signed a contract already and are obligated to it... tell them to ram it up there snout!!! They have brought you down here under false pretenses... lies, lies, lies... and more lies... this is just one universe in a sea of many others... and you being the fully enhanced spiritual being that you already are can create your own universe if your not happy with what others have created...

When you die, you are no longer in the earth universe... you are in kind of an Archon airport or train station... a booking station if you will... just out side the walls of this waiting station is a whole new out look on life... there you will find many, many station similar to the one you were just in... though all a whole lot kinder than where you just came from...

The most important and only thing that you should be doing at this point is getting up and out of there... you will need to leave this earth universe station and you should have no trouble doing so... these station are not all that big... this too is just an illusion... just keep going away from it and you will find your way out... if they stand in your way... plow right through them... you are a more powerful being than the Archons are...

All truly is mind when dealing with these Archons... so you must be prepared for this... with just you imagination you can turn them all into gel... melt them down to mere puddles on the floor... don't stand for any of there BS... cuz that is truly all it is... is BS!!!

Monsters, devils, demons, etc... whatever they throw at you is nothing more than just a construct of your own mind and cannot harm you in anyway... they will try many different tactics as you are on your way out of this earth station to keep you here... don't be fooled by any of them... they will even try and play good cop, bad cop with you... you must resist there role playing... they will even appear as spirit guides and/or angels... whatever your belief was here on earth is what they will attack you with.. you must be very careful to see through deceptions... because, they are in fact, masters at it...

This earth, the universe, all that is around you does not really exist... none of it... even your own bodies do not exist... they are all only an illusion...

Once you die, they will have quite the facade set up for you... things like going towards the light... DON'T!!! that is the very first trap they have set up for you... just be silent and fly, fly, fly out of there domain... Love is one of there other huge tricks... they have the ability to fill your whole being with some much overwhelming love all at once... you will think you are in heaven... how else could you feel this way... but I tell you... the feeling of love might be real...

Once out of there reach... and I don't think you will have to fly far for this to happen... things will begin to become much clearer in your thinking... all your memory will return to you from all your past lives... chance are you are a very, very old soul and you will know what to do once your memories are restored...

God is real but he has no role in this earth universe... aside from God... all religions are a lie... all the biblical stuff written down was all channeled from the Archons... all the satanic evil stuff all comes from the Archons... even all the mystery school teachings... yep channeled information from the Archons...

It's not all bad out there... and being a spiritual being such that you are is pretty dam cool once you are freed from the constraint and traumas produced from being on planet earth... there are universe upon universes for you to explore and/or create for your own & others entertainment/enjoyment... stop at nothing to break free from the Archons hold on you... just be strong, stand your ground, and never have any fear of them and you will be fine... =)

Just this portion is so very, very important to get out to the world... as is the rest of this document... please do others a favor and resend, resend, resend this out to everyone...

Know What Happens When You Die:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nNlyupEBdeE>

Addictions:

Once dead if you had any addiction when alive you will still have them when you die... as a matter of fact you will have them 10 fold once dead... this would be a little Archon trick to make you want to reincarnate... trust me... you get away from the Archons and these addictions will go away... you must stay strong if you wish to be liberated from planet earth... another trick the Archons will use is telling you that the addiction will go away once you reincarnate giving you a fresh start not to become addicted once again...

There is no negotiating with these entities... they are evil and relentless... I have been studying them daily for the past 11 years now... and have quite the documentation to present to the world for they affect each and every one of us daily... your thoughts are truly not your own!!!

Gnostics: call them "Archons"

Castaneda: calls them "The Flyer"

Myself: calls them "The Shadow People"

"We have a predator that came from the depths of the cosmos and took over the rule of our lives. Human beings are its prisoners. The predator is our lord and master. They have rendered us docile, helpless. If we want to protest, it suppresses our protest. If we want to act independently, it demands that we don't do so...

Sorcerers of old believed that the predators have given us our systems of beliefs, our ideas of good and evil, our social morels. They are the ones who set up our hopes and expectations and dreams of success or failure. They have given us covetousness, greed and cowardice. It is the predators who make us complacent, routinary and egomaniacal. “

~ Castaneda

Gnostic writings contain descriptions of alien predators called Archons, Arkontai in Greek. The texts from Nag Hammadi describe them as heavy, elusive, shadowy creatures. The most common name for them is “beings of the likeness, shadow-creatures.” Could the Archons be compared to the “mud shadows” described by don Juan? This question raises the general issue of parallels between don Juan’s Central American Toltec shamanism and the shamanism of the Mystery Schools of ancient Europe.

“the predators give us their mind, which becomes our mind.”

This alarming statement suggests an immediate parallel to Gnostic teachings. Gnostics, who directed the Mystery Schools of the Near East in antiquity, taught that the true mind of human beings, nous authenticos, is part of the cosmic intelligence that pervades nature, but due to the intrusion of the Archons, this “native mind” or “native genius” can be subverted and even occupied by another mind. They warned that the Archons invade the human psyche, they intrude mentally and psychologically, although they may also confront us physically as well. Their main impact, however, is in our mental syntax, in our paradigms and beliefs, exactly as don Juan says of the flyers.

Don Juan tells Castaneda that the predator’s mind is “a cheap model: economy strength, one size fits all.” This description fits the hive-mentality of the Archons. Sorcerers call this uniform alien mind “the foreign installation, which exists in you and in every other human being.” The foreign installation (italicized by Castaneda) pulls us out of our syntax. It deranges our indigenous abilities to organize the world according to the language proper to our species. The role of correct syntax in the sorcerer’s mastery of intent is one of the central factors in the later teachings of Don Juan. The sorcerer’s concern for deviation of syntax, and consequent derouting of intent, parallels the importance of language and correct definition emphasized in Gnostic teaching.

They have been here with me my entire life... prof of this lies in the fact of dreams... we don't have dreams... they are given to us... that and I heard my first voice when I was 3 years of age... they know everything about everyone of us...

Games they play & realities they have had me to believe at the time of psychosis or a temp version of it... ← - See book when done writing...

I do hope you take this all very seriously for it truly does affect all of us... feel free to use any and all of this info any way you see fit... and by all means please do pass it on to others and make a point to discuss in depth with one another you inner thoughts/feelings and emotion that you experience that just don't seem right... I think if you start to compare notes you will see all that I have stated above to be true and accurate...

I'm very open to questions so please don't hesitate to ask...
